

'Samhain' - from the 'Year Wheel Chant'

W.Songsmith
Tallis' Canon

The veils between the worlds are thin, As Samhain bids us enter in, To join the dance of life and death, And speak dear names who shared our breath.