

Chinese Morning Song

T.C.Chao/Hu Te-Ai
(No 353 in 'Singing the Living Tradition')

1) Gol - den breaks the dawn, Comes the eas - tern sun,
2) As the spi - nning globe, Rolls a - way the night,

O - ver lake and lawn, Sets his course to run,
Na - ture wears her robe, Spun of mor - ning light,

Birds a - bove us fly, Flo - wers bloom be - low,
Dawn breaks in me too, As in skies a - bove,

Through the earth and sky, Life's great mer - cies flow.
Greet the day a - new, Ra - di - ant with love.
